A fter 39 years at Leeward Community College serving his community and the University of Hawai‘i, we bid a fond “aloha” to our beloved Chancellor Manuel “Manny” J. Cabral. Manny’s roots at Leeward run deep. He first began as mathematics faculty in 1980, followed by his longtime position as Chair for the Math and Sciences Division. In 2007, he became the first Native Hawaiian Chancellor of Leeward CC and the first UHCC faculty member ever appointed to lead his home CC campus. As a true kama‘aina, he always had the community’s best interest at heart, and his insight and support helped make OCEWD what it is today– a leader in workforce training in Hawaii.

Of course, if you ask him, Manny is quick to attribute OCEWD’s success to many talented and committed individuals: former directors Dr. Horace Clay, Dr. Joyce Tsunoda, Lucy Gay, Michael Moser, and current Senior Coordinator, Dr. Patrick Leddy. Originally established in 1969 (as the Office of Special Programs and Community Services), OSPCS’s offerings were mostly personal enrichment classes. Over time, each director had their hand in moving the office toward workforce development, building a foundation (literally and figuratively) for what now stands as the Office of Continuing Education & Workforce Development (OCEWD) on the Diamond Head end of campus.

“One of our strengths is a workforce development bridge between credit and noncredit.”

Chancellor Manny Cabral
During his eleven years as Chancellor, Manny selected leaders and staff members who shared his vision for growth and innovation in the workforce. His style of leadership gave each person the freedom to utilize their talents, while he supported them in the background. Leeward’s Health Information Technology and Integrated Industrial Technology degree programs are prime examples of his vision for noncredit to be more than just personal enrichment. “It’s about much-needed new programs being incubated in OCEWD and, when the time comes, moving them to the credit side as degree programs.” This collaboration is very important, and Manny says, “one of our strengths is a workforce development bridge between credit and noncredit.”

As he leaves us to begin the next chapter of life with his family, Manny looks back on the history of the noncredit office at Leeward CC and proudly states that “our workforce programs have grown and matured more than other campuses... they have been driven by the college’s location and the needs and opportunities presented by our fast growing and diverse community”. He helped bridge the gap between the credit and noncredit programs, calling us “an intrinsic part of one big campus.” As OCEWD continues to pursue partnerships and opportunities to build upon his work, we are grateful for the guidance and support offered by Chancellor Manny Cabral.

Aloha and Mahalo, Manny.

We have redesigned our Industrial Technology course and program offerings to align with industry needs. By greatly expanding our course offerings, and decreasing the length of the courses, employers are able to provide incumbent workers with professional development training and certifications without having to attend classes after normal working hours.

Our new pathways allow employers to send workers to a series of courses that lead to certification or skill competency that is relevant to their position and duties on the job.

For information on the pathways, course descriptions, and schedule of courses visit our website: www.ocewd.org/industrial-technology elevating Hawaii’s workforce through partnerships

Are you getting the results you want from your employees? We recognize that employers and organizations often require employees to have specific skill sets. When these skills are lacking it can directly affect the bottom line. Training increases performance. In the past, this training was not available locally and it was expensive.

OCEWD has developed and delivered many successful short-term, industry specific, training courses at affordable rates. We can work with you to develop training right here at home, from the ground up, to meet your needs.

“The training has been excellent, and we feel our outcomes are being met.”

ETF for employers
employment & training fund

Since 1991, the Employment & Training Fund (ETF) has provided assistance for employees to gain new skills for their jobs. Through professional development, they are able to seek out increased pay or promotions.

There are currently two types of ETF funding sources:

ETF Macro
ETF Macro provides grants for industry specific training where there are critical skill shortages in high growth occupational or industry areas. These funds are used as “seed” money to develop “cutting edge” education and training curricula and program design and activities where none exist in the state.

ETF Macro grants are made available on availability of funds. If your business organization/consortium/employer group is interested in applying for an ETF grant, please call the Workforce Development Division, State Department of Labor and Industrial Relations, at 586-8877.

ETF Micro
The ETF Micro program is most popular among individual businesses that need to upgrade the job skills of their employees. Training courses that are available include, but not limited to: computer, business, management, health, medical training, or soft skills training. Employers are eligible to receive up to 50% (maximum $400 tuition cap) of tuition costs provided by approved vendors. To learn more about the ETF Micro program, visit: http://labor.hawaii.gov/wdd/home/employers/etf/micro/

“CREDIT” BY REVIEW
OCEWD’s Course Equivalency Program provides alternate opportunities to obtain recognition for prior learning. Leeward Community College believes there are many ways to become “educated” besides traditional course offerings. The College provides options which allow students to demonstrate competency gained through non-classroom experiences and to earn college credits for them. This allows students to spend their time and money on the new subjects they need and want to take. Requests for “credit” must be approved by OCEWD administration and the instructor. Methods for earning such credits include:

› Independent Study
› Credit-by-Exam
› Credits Earned at Foreign Colleges and Universities
› Equivalency Examinations
› College-Level Examination Program (CLEP)
› Credit for Prior Learning

TUITION & FEES
All tuition and fee charges at the University of Hawai‘i campuses are subject to change in accordance with requirements of State law and/or actions by the University of Hawai‘i board of Regents or Administration. The tuition for Leeward Community College Non-Credit courses includes all applicable fees. Tuition rates are posted for each course in the catalog. Students with an outstanding balance prior to the first day of class will not be allowed to attend.

WITHDRAWAL/REFUND POLICY
A withdrawal/refund will be permitted if the request is made at least five (5) business days (Monday-Friday, excluding holidays) prior to the start of the event, program, or course during regular office hours. Refund requests must be made in person or by writing to the OCEWD (postmarked by the refund deadline). Faxed or mailed withdrawal requests must include the student’s signature. Failure to attend class or notifying your instructor of your intent to withdraw does not constitute an official withdrawal from the course. Agencies submitting purchase orders for student registration fees will be billed regardless of attendance, unless notification of withdrawal is made by the specified refund deadline.

Refunds for check and cash payments are processed within eight (8) to ten (10) weeks. Refunds for charge payments are credited to the account originally charged.

These policies are general program policies. Individual courses may have their own specific policies that would be found on the course syllabus provided by the instructor on the first day of class.
